

ONLINE MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
Program Overview

HOME > ONLINE MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The University of San Francisco's flexible, part-time online MBA program is designed for working professionals from all industries who want to complete their degree while working. It's also the #1-ranked MBA program in the city of San Francisco.

The online MBA degree emphasizes practical experiences, which include client-based projects in partnership with dynamic startups, established Fortune 500 companies, and Bay Area nonprofits. USF's MBA program is offered online and on ground, and you can also customize parts of the curriculum to fit your current job and apply the coursework to real issues in your workplace.

With a mix of on-demand content and live sessions, you will be able to finish your courses on your own schedule while getting to know your classmates and teachers. Our students come from a wide range of backgrounds and industries, reflecting the versatility of our MBA program.

Learn From Leaders Who Shape Their Industries

The MBA program is delivered by our outstanding faculty, who are talented leaders eager to share their knowledge. They know first-hand what's happening in the boardrooms and brainstorming sessions of leading companies, and they bring that experience directly to your courses.

An MBA in San Francisco offers unparalleled opportunities to build connections within a community known for its inclusivity and openness to diverse ideas and ideologies. Collaborate with a globally-minded cohort that values different perspectives in an environment where innovation thrives.

Get Personalized Support for Every Stage of Your Career

One of the signatures of our program is the personalized attention from our career services team, who are experts at helping you get the most out of your MBA experience. They work closely with you to define your goals, identify your ideal path, and equip you with the tools and strategies to achieve it all.

This support is a lifelong resource: after you graduate, you'll have continuous access to our extensive professional network and ongoing career development opportunities.

Benefit Your Career and Serve Your Community Through Client-Based Projects

USF champions community-based learning, which recognizes that true business success and sustainability is closely linked to community involvement. With experiential learning projects such as our Global Business Practicum and Magis Final Project, you will apply your growing skill set to real-world scenarios that support and improve society.

Embedded in individual MBA courses, our hands-on projects are designed to bring your learning to life by tackling real-world challenges within the context of your coursework. Developed in collaboration with faculty and industry partners, these projects allow you to apply course concepts directly to practical scenarios, bridging the gap between academic theory and professional practice.

Project Highlights

- Immediate application: Use the principles and strategies you're learning in class to address current business issues and opportunities.
- Professional edge: Build your portfolio and demonstrate problem-solving, analytical, and leadership skills to prospective employers.
- Collaborative learning: Work closely with peers to deliver solutions that make an impact, gaining teamwork experience that reflects a real-world professional environment.

These projects ensure each course goes beyond theoretical knowledge to equip you with the hands-on experience needed to thrive in today's competitive job market.

MBA vs. Master's in Management: Which Degree Is Right for You?

A Master of Business Administration (MBA) offers a comprehensive view of business strategy and operations, with a strong emphasis on practical experience. Most MBA programs look for applicants with several years of work experience, making the degree ideal for mid-career professionals looking to advance to senior leadership.

A Master's in Management (MIM) is a shorter, more focused degree that emphasizes key business principles. The degree is suitable for professionals at all career stages, including those with limited work experience.

When I completed my own MBA, I found myself thinking, 'Why didn't I do this sooner?' The degree equipped me with an incredible array of tools that have eased my professional path. Having the right skills to apply in real-world scenarios makes daily work easier and career transitions smoother.
